

Dorma Hüppe launches unique end-panel for sliding partitions

Style now offers a unique telescopic end-panel, available with the advanced Dorma Hüppe Variflex partitioning wall system. The TEF closure panel greatly improves the aesthetics of the moveable wall as, once in position, it sits completely flush against adjacent panels while ensuring an optimum acoustic seal every time.

The end-panel is available with both semi-automatic and manually operated Variflex sliding moveable wall systems. As the elements are manoeuvred into place, the telescopic panel is automatically activated with the press of a button, or in the case of manual systems, with a turn of the seal-expansion handle, creating a firm acoustic barrier with a superior flush finish.
