

Increasing profitability with Style

Clearly demonstrating how a partitioning system can offer an excellent return on investment, Crown Banqueting, a lavish Asian wedding venue, recently worked with operable wall specialist, Style, to design and install a sophisticated partitioning system to its expansive event space.

Delivering excellent acoustic privacy between divided areas, the sliding wall panels can be quickly manoeuvred into place, allowing Crown Banqueting to successfully cater for up to 700 guests split between two separate areas.

Complementing the modern interior design of the room, a steamed beech finish was chosen and, with ease of operation also essential, Crown staff can open up or divide the room with speed thanks to its smooth and effortless handling.

Offering a complete solution, Style employs a nationwide network of service and repair professionals, offering routine maintenance of operable walls they originally installed, as well as for most other manufacturers. Regular servicing effectively extends the safe working life of the system, helping ensure trouble-free operation, sometimes for as long as to 25 years.
